Lintz, June 26. The freſheſt Accounts from the Army bring Advice, that the Enemy was retreating; as ſoon as Prince Charles had ordered Prince Lobcowitz to join him at Greiſſenfeldt, Marſhal Brolio paſſed through Ingolſtadt from his Iſland in the Danube, and retired towards Donawert. Col. St. Germain, with his 2000 Men, Bavarians, has abandoned Landsperg, and Marſhal Seckendorff who had been at Rayn, is alſo retired, ſo that the Lech is open for the Prince to paſs it, where he pleaſes, in Purſuit of the French. Some Days ago Prince Eſterhazy cut 600 Men in Pieces with his Huſſars, and took their Baggage. The Morning of the Paſſage of the Iſer and Danube, Marſhal Broglio wrote to Marſhal Seckendorff, that he ſuppoſed the Auſtrians were preparing to paſs, but that he anſwered for it they could not, and that he would cut them in Pieces. Juſt before their Paſſage, he ſent another Letter, telling him they had began to paſs, and that he could not oppoſe them, as he did not expect they would paſs in thoſe Parts, and ſo was retiring. We ſhall ſoon hear, it is thought, of the Reduction of Braunau and Egra. Yeſterday the Homage of the States of this Duchy to the Queen our Sovereign, was performed with great Magnificence and general Joy. The Queen ſets out on her Return to Vienna, on the third of next Month.

Copy of a Letter from Field Marſhal Count Khevenhuller, dated from the Camp near Rayn, June 28, N. S.

THE Queen's Army having, on the 25th Inſtant, advanced as far as the River Lech, the Bavarian Troops, who lay encamped on the other Side of that River, thought proper to break up, and to retire further back. The following Day Count Seckendorff deſired an Interview with me, which I conſented to. We met accordingly Yeſterday at the Convent of Lower Sconfeld, not far from hence: The Reſult of our Conference was, that, upon certain and uſual Conditions, Braunau, which we keep blocked up, as well as Richenhall, ſhould be immediately ſurrendred to our Troops; and that afterwards, in proper Time, Straubingen alſo ſhould be evacuated and put into our Poſſeſſion. As to the main Affair, his Electoral Highneſs of Bavaria has taken the Reſolution entirely to withdraw his Troops from thoſe of his Allies, and to diſtribute them into the Territories of thoſe States of the Empire who are not engaged in this War, and conſequently to embrace a Neutrality with reſpect to our Army and to the Territories of the Empire.

Hague, July 12, N. S. Every Thing being now ready for the March of the Dutch Troops, we may depend upon their ſoon aſſembling, agreeably to the Liſt of the Diviſions annexed. The Horſe Guards are to be muſtered on Monday next, and to ſet out, as well as the Foot Guards, one Day next Week. The Regiments of Ypres and Namur are already in Motion towards Arnheim, whither the reſt of that Body are likewiſe to march, and all jointly to take their Route thro' Munſter Paderborn, or Lipſtadt to Frankenberg, Marbourg, Gieſen, and Friedberg. Colonel Baron de Keſſel arrived here from Bruſſels on Wedneſday laſt, being named by the Queen one of her Majeſty's Commiſſaries for conducting the above-mentioned Troops. General Diemar ſet out from hence Yeſterday Morning for the Army upon the Mayn: Before his Departure the following Points were agreed between the Council of State and him, viz.

That

That all Undertakings and Operations of the Army of the Allies ſhall be imparted to Count Maurice of Naſſau, Commander in Chief of the Auxiliary Troops of this State, and that he ſhall be conſulted upon them.—That the Dutch Generals, and Officers ſhall be admitted to the Council of War jointly with all other Generals and Officers: —That they are to hold their Rank with all other Generals and Officers of the Auxiliary Army, according to their Character and Seniority: —And that the Troops of the Republick are in all Occurrences to be ſpared as much as thoſe of the Queen themſelves. By the Letters juſt come in from the North, we hear that the Preliminaries of Peace between Ruſſia and Sweden were ſigned at Abo the 16th paſt, O. S. and had been accepted at Stockholm by all the Orders, except that of the Peaſants, who, ſupported by the Dalicarlians, continued to keep Affairs in Suſpence and Confuſion.

Copenhagen,

Copenhagen, July 6, N. S. The Queen of Denmark continues ſtill in a very precarious, unſettled State of Health, and is often obliged to keep her Chamber. Yeſterday the Prince Royal took his Seat, for the firſt Time, in the Privy Council. The Report of the Ruſs being landed in Sweden is not confirmed. 'Tis ſaid here that the Dalicarlians, who are in the Neighbourhood of Stockholm, commit no Exceſſes, but appear to be very orderly and tractable. The Squadron firſt appointed, conſiſting of 12 Ships of the Line and ſix Frigates, (four of which are already gone to Sea) is now preparing to ſail for the Baltick, and will weigh Anchor To morrow or next Day, under the Command of Admiral Kraag, who hoiſted his Flag laſt Thurſday on board the Chriſtianus Sextus. Another Squadron of ſix or eight Ships, and five Frigates, will ſoon be ready to follow if there be Occaſion.
